

J. Adam Lowe
4th District
County Commission

J. Adam Lowe is the commission for Bradley County's 4th, serving the elementary school districts of Oak Grove, Michigan Avenue, Park View, and Taylor Elementary.

Adam possesses a bachelor's degree in psychology and human development from Lee University and a master of public administration from the University of Tennessee Chattanooga. Adam has spent the past decade working in many facets of community service including counseling, education, and social service. He has consulted agencies in 3 states including churches, campaigns, and nonprofits in the areas of organizational development and budgeting.

Adam is a member of the Association of Fundraising Professionals, Kiwanis International, the Republican Party, and is active in his local church. Adam lives in the Taylors community with his wife Rachel and children (Blaine, Avri, & Maddox). He is a small business man and owner of GravelRoad Entertainment LLC (www.gravelrd.com), a local audiovisual technologies company. He is also the acting director of Lee University's Annual Alumni Fund.